TNT Commodity Newsletter celebrating 4 years of publication for the commodity futures industry

Monthly Newsletter shows insight into the futures market and helps traders plan their future trades

Logan, UT, Jan, 2005: The TNT Commodity Newsletter is full of economic information on seasonal markets and has trades suggestions along with chart analysis. The co-authors of the TNT Commodity Newsletter are Lan Turner, President and CEO of Gecko Software, Inc., and Scott Barrie, President and CEO of CFEA; Commodity, Futures & Equity Analytics, LLC. Lan Turner is an author, trainer, public speaker, columnist, and publisher of numerous educational videos, books and multimedia CD-ROM's that teach traders how to successfully navigate the financial markets. Scott Barrie has worked in most aspects of Commodities Industry, from floor clerk to market regulation, independent floor trader to money manager.

In the TNT Commodity Newsletter, Lan Turner contributes his unique tips and tricks in technical analysis and commentary for each commodity chart using his flagship charting software, Track 'n Trade Pro. Scott Barrie accents basic technical analysis with fundamentals and seasonals in writing his commentary and covers world economic news that may impact trends in seasonal markets.

The TNT Commodity Newsletter is available each month through Gecko Software. This month's issue is being offered to anyone, free of charge and can be downloaded in a PDF format on the internet at <http://www.trackntrade.com/newsletter>. Many traders have already found out that the insight and information that the TNT Commodity Newsletter has into the markets using Track 'n Trade Pro can help them develop a more complete trading strategy.
