Press Release

Gecko Software, Inc. Announces the Grand Opening of the All New PitNews.com

Pitnews.com launches an online store selling futures trading tools and Gecko Software attire.

Logan, UT, June, 2005: As of June 8th, the long-awaited Grand Opening of the all new Pitnews.com is now up and running! Pitnews.com is an online magazine and news website for commodity Futures and Options traders. Pitnews.com has a brand new look that is more convenient and easy to read. When you visit Pitnews.com you will find up-to-date trading news and tips. You can find information about upcoming seminars, discuss trading and futures in online forums, view charts and reports, and more.

Pitnews.com also offers commodity articles that give in-depth technical analysis as to what is happening in the market. You'll find reports on livestock, seasonals, grains, indices, and energies. These articles are written by professional futures and options traders or brokers, so you'll be sure to receive an accurate analysis.

Pitnews.com also has a new E-store which contains many products that can help you as a trader and investor in the financial markets. The E-store offers educational books and CD's, trading tools, trading courses, newsletters, and the entire line of Gecko Software Track 'n Trade Pro products.

Stop by www.pitnews.com and check it out for yourself.
